THE LOU MITCHELL'S STORY
80 YEARS LATER WE'RE STILL THE BEST
GREAT FOOD AND FUN!

As you come in to Lou Mitchell's you're handed doughnut holes and milk duds to the Ladies by friendly staffers. In the open Kitchen a small army of cooks work with vats of butter and freshly cracked eggs. This as a benchmark breakfast restaurant (and lunch), the kind of authentic place you pray you'll find as you drive through small town America. Lou Mitchell's preaches old-time restaurant religion, starting with just-squeezed orange and grapefruit juices, homemade orange marmalade. The tender pancakes and crisp malted Belgian waffles are flawless...
-American Way Magazine

Lou Mitchell's one of my favorite breakfast places...
-Pat Bruno, Chicago Sun-Times

Lou Mitchell's is one of the few places left in the country where you can get absolutely top-quality food at truly affordable prices - This Chicago landmark still packs them in after 80 years in the same spot. Small wonder critics define Lou Mitchell's as the one American coffee shop to recommend to a foreign visitor. Pastries are made from the family recipes, coffee is served with real cream, the omelets are huge and heavenly...
-Austin American Statesman-Austin, Texas

"If God made omelets they'd taste like creations at this loop"
"World-class breakfast place, open for lunch too" "Great pancakes"...
-Zagat survey

Lou Mitchell's may be the Heartland's pre-eminent breakfast joint...
-Midwest Living

Lou Mitchell's offers a host of different sandwiches, including hamburgers made from beef ground fresh daily served with hand cut french fries...
-Daily Southtown newspaper

Route 66 was created in 1926 and when the signs went up on Jackson Boulevard in Chicago they found Lou Mitchell's restaurant already waiting for them... "We've been feeding the hungry travelers with comfort food since 1923"
Lou Mitchell's inducted into the Route 66 - Hall of Fame June 8th, 2002
